The contractor will also furnish, for one section The contractor will also furnish, for one section, called the engine section, two upright beam engines and boilers, with all the necessary pumps, water tanks, shafting, gearing, machinery and attact ments of sufficient strength and power to raise the dock of six sections, with a vessel of 3,200 tons weight upon it, in one hour.

The engines and boilers will be protected by a suitable foone, to be built of charcosl iron.

The plans of the engines and boilers, with specifications in detail, must be approved by an envineer of the United States may, to be appointed by the Department for that duty.

The ma'erials used in building said dock must be, in all its parts, of the best quality of beam, angle and plate charcoal iron, and must be able to stand the regulation teets for strength and toughness of iron ased for building iron vessels of var. The whole structure will be built under the inspection of the superintendent appointed by the Department, who will have authority to reject any material or portion of the work not considered by him to be of preper quality and workman.

by him to be of preper quality and workmanship.

The contractor will be required to give security in the amount of $500,000, with not less than two sureties, who will furnish the usual certificates that they possess property free from incumbrance equal to twice the amount for which they are held as sureties, that he will do the work and construct the docks according to his contract in all respects, and that the same will be sufficient in strength and capacity, and will accomplish the purpose for which it is designed, as set out in this advertisement and in said contract, and that it will operate successfully for two years after it has been accepted for use.

The work will be completed and the two sections ready for use within five months from the date of signing the contract.

Payments will be made in ten equal parts, as the work progresses, upon bills duly certified to by the superintendent on the part of the Government; the Government reserving twenty per cent.

(20) of the amount of each bill as additional security until the final completion and acceptance of the work.

All "straw bids" will be at once rejected, and can of the amount of each bill as additional security until the final completion and acceptance of the work.

All "straw bids" will be at once rejected, and the Department reserves the right to reject any bid from persons considered not competent to do the work, and all bids not believed to be for the interests of the Government; and, for the purpose of securing proper information on these points, a board of officer, or securing proper information on these points, a board of officer, one engineer and one constructor, will be appointed by the Department to examine the bids, and investigate and report upon the experience and ability of the persons bidding, and the facilities at their command for properly excenting the work required; and the Department will not award the contract to any one of whom such report is not, in all respects, satisfactory.
